

Profile – Robin Lawrence BSc MRICS Director

With more than 30-years' experience in the property industry, Robin has a wealth of knowledge and expertise gained in private practice and the corporate sector.

Robin established Hindley Lawrence, a niche roadside commercial surveying practice, with Tony Hindley in 2007. Prior to this, Robin was a Partner at Rapleys LLP, establishing its Manchester office in 2001. As Partner in Charge of the office, Robin was responsible for a team of more than 20 surveyors and one of his key responsibilities was the acquisition of Somerfield convenience stores and petrol filling station sites throughout the north of the country. Prior to this he was a Partner at King Sturge and held a number of positions in the corporate property sector where, since 1987, he gained considerable experience in the roadside and automotive property sectors.

Robin's expertise extends to the petrol forecourt, roadside retail, drive-thru and automotive market sectors where he has provided strategic advice to major operators, occupiers and investors.

The specialist services Robin provides includes agency work – site and property identification, investment, negotiation, acquisition and disposal – professional services work – valuations, rent reviews, lease renewals – investment portfolio management – asset management, lease restructuring, funding and consultancy work – various development projects and business/corporate acquisitions – all of which have been undertaken on behalf of petrol station operators, investors, motor manufacturers, motor groups, various roadside/retail occupiers and developers.
